COUNTY OVER ITS QUOTA

Only Four Towns Not Yet Up to Full Quota, Taplin Reports.

Victory Loan Chairman M. M. Taplin of Orleans reports that all but four of the towns in the county have reached their quotas in the drive, and two of these towns are Jay and Holland, where the drive has been purposely postponed until the roads are settled.

The two other towns which have not yet reported "over the top" are certain of getting their quota, while the county as a whole has gone well over its quota, as has the state.

Mr. Taplin expresses his thanks to the chairmen and others who have labored so faithfully to make the last drive a success, and praises the people, who have subscribed so liberally.

Lieut. C. A. Adams of Danville, formerly of Irasburg, attached to the 101st Ammunition Train, returned home last week. Lieut. Adams went to France two years ago as an ambulance driver in the American Ambulance Corps. He drove on the Champagne and Rheims fronts until he was transferred to A. E. F. and joined the 101st Ammunition Train two days before the battle of Chateau-Thierry.

"The 101st Ammunition Train was made up, roughly speaking of 700 Vermont boys and about 500 from Massachusetts," said Rev. Mr. Adams. "A finer set of boys would be hard to find. Gen. Edwards, the French generals or our own Regulars, whom they served, never had to call for ammunition from them. It was always there where it was wanted and when it was wanted. It meant long hours and facing great dangers, but they did it with a courage and a spirit that was truly wonderful. It meant many sleepless nights and sometimes without food, but I never heard one of them murmur. They carried on all the time. At Chateau-Thierry they had to haul the ammunition from 50 to 70 kilometers over rough roads, torn by German shells, but they kept going all the time."

TELEPHONE TOLLS BEGIN

AND RATES ADVANCE.

"Compromise" Allows Five Free Calls Per Month. Business 'Phone Up 50c Per Month. House, 25c.

The following information sent the editor of this paper by Local Manager C. A. Brown of the New England Telephone company, is taken to mean that the proposed toll charges which were first announced to become effective February 1 and several times postponed because of protests and action of the Vermont Public Service commission, become operative Thursday in this territory.

Here is Brown's message: "By reason of the compromise between representatives of the complainants and of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., the company will allow each subscriber five free calls per month to points within the old free service district. This plan goes into effect May 1st."

Where, when, why and by whom the compromise was made is not set forth. What five calls into the former free territory will be given is not made clear. One might make 10 toll calls during the month, five of which were 5c tolls and five of which were 25c tolls. Information to the public by the telephone company leaves much to be desired, but will, perhaps, be given out soon.

Telephone rates to all subscribers will also be increased on May 1. This announcement is made by the New England Telephone & Telegraph company in a large advertisement on another page of this paper, and is, so the advertisement states, because it is absolutely necessary that additional revenue be obtained to meet the heavily increased cost of operating the telephone service. The additional rates have the approval of Postmaster General Burleson.

An increase of 50 cents per month to business subscribers will become effective on Thursday.

An increase of 25 cents per month to all residence subscribers will be effective Thursday. This will affect every person who has a phone in his home whether a single party line or a six-party line.

Subscribers to season service at certain summer resorts, who have service any time between July 1 and September 30 will be charged for the minimum of seven months' service.

Note—Since the above was written Mr. Brown explained to the writer by telephone that the five free calls will be the first five calls made in each month.
